Application of this policy

- 6 This privacy policy applies to:

6.1 Us, namely Azam media Ltd and/or Uhai production Ltd and/or Azam Pay TV Ltd, as agents of these entities, and their successors-in-title;

6.2 you, namely a person who accesses our site, regardless of the device which you use to access it (e.g. a computer, mobile phone, tablet etc).

- 7 This privacy policy does not apply to other parties' sites, products or services, such as sites linked to, from or advertised on our site, or sites which link to or advertise our site.

What is personal information?

8 Personal information refers to private information about an identifiable person, such as your name and surname, gender, age, date of birth, contact details (e.g. your home address, postal address, e-mail address or phone number), physical location, ID number and your image (such as a private photograph on a social networking site).

- 9 Other information which might be "personal" information may include:

9.1 “device and device event information”: We may collect information such as your IP address, unique device identifier, the nature of the device which you used to access our site (e.g. a computer, tablet or smart phone, and which type thereof), the geographic location from which you accessed our site (i.e. the geographic location of your device), hardware model and settings, operating system type and version, browser type and version, browser language, system activity, crashes;

9.2 “log information”: When you use our site, we may automatically collect and store certain information in server logs (i.e. our web servers automatically record and maintain a log of their activities when users access our site), which may include your “site activity information”, such as details of how, when and for how long you accessed and used our site and other site traffic and use information (e.g. the date and time of your site requests, referral web pages (i.e. which site pages directed you to our site), landing pages (i.e. the page at which you accessed our site), URLs, which pages you accessed, the number of pages viewed and the order of those pages, the amount of time spent on those pages, the number of clicks, which games you played, when and how long you played any game, how you interacted with other site users, and exit pages (i.e. sites which you navigated to when leaving our site));

9.3 “location information”: We may use various technologies to determine your actual location, such as geographical data from your device (which is usually based on the GPS or IP location); and

9.4 “unique application numbers”: Certain services include a unique application number. This number and information about your installation (for example, the operating system type and application version number) may be sent to us when you install or uninstall such a service or when that service periodically contacts our servers, such as for automatic updates.

How we collect your personal information

10 We collect your personal information in four ways, namely:

10.1 actively from you;

10.2 passively from your device when you use our site;

10.3 passively from social networking sites (subject to your privacy settings); and

10.4 passively from companies in the Bakhresa Group of Companies(our “affiliates”) and third party service providers.

Active collection of personal information from you

11 Some areas of our site may require you to submit certain information in order for you to register for certain services or benefit from specified features, such as when you register on the site, request to receive any newsletters or similar subscriptions or tips/pointers, or participate in a particular activity, such as a game, promotional competition or other promotion (collectively referred to as the “value added services”). If you contact us, we may keep a record of that correspondence.

12 If you want to take advantage of any of our site sharing features, we will ask you to create a publicly visible profile, indicating, for example, your username, e-mail address and, if you so wish, your photo.

13 Our site may also collect personal information from you by asking you specific questions and by permitting you to communicate directly with us, for example via e-mail, feedback forms, site comments and forums.

14 In these situations, we will:

14.1 ask you for particular information;

14.2 inform you at each information point what information is required and what information is optional; and

14.3 indicate the consequences if you don't give us the relevant information. (You will generally need to provide us with the relevant information in order to take full advantage of the site features.)

15 The information we may actively collect from you may include your:

15.1 identifying information (e.g. your name, surname, username, unique identifier (if you haven't chosen a username), gender, date of birth, profile picture and physical location);

15.2 contact details (e.g. e-mail address and phone number); and 15.3 other information which we may request from you from time to time.

Passive collection of personal information from your device

16 We passively collect some of your personal information from the device which you use to access and navigate through our site, using various technological means.

17 One of the key ways in which we collect information passively is using server logs to collect and maintain log information (see paragraph 9.2 above).

18 We also use cookies and anonymous identifiers which enable our computer system to recognise you when you next visit our site, to distinguish you from other site users and to improve our service to you.

19 A cookie is a small piece of data (an alphanumeric identifier) which our computer system transfers to your device through your web browser when you visit our site and which is stored in your web browser. When you visit the site again, the cookie allows the site to recognise your browser. Cookies may store user preferences and other information.

20 Cookies also enable us to analyse usage of our site, diagnose problems with our server, aggregate and report information, ensure our records are complete, accurate and up to date, determine the fastest route for your computer to use in connecting with our site, and better administer and improve the site, recognise you when you next access our site to remember your preferences and to tailor our services to you, manage and target advertising on our site, as well as to compile aggregate information about your access to and use of our site. This information can be used to enhance the content of our site and make it more user-friendly, as well as to give you a more personalised experience.

21 Please note that you may disable the use of cookies by configuring your browser to refuse all cookies or to indicate when a cookie is being sent. However, if you do so, you may not be able to enjoy all of the site features and functionality.

22 The information which we may passively collect from your device may include your identifying information, contact details, device and device event information, site activity information, log information, telephony log information, location information, unique application numbers (see paragraph 9 above) and any other information which you permit us, from time to time, to passively collect from your device.

Passive collection of personal information from social networking sites (with your permission)

23 We may allow you to log onto our site, or create a profile on our site, by using Facebook Connect or another social networking site authentication option.

24 By collecting information from social networking sites we enable you to enrich your profile on our site, your game-play and your social experience by enabling you to share your information (e.g. posts, photos, videos, contacts, etc) which is stored on that site without you having to actively give us all that information – all you need to do is login using your username and password and give us your permission to access and use that information.

25 There are two kinds of information which we collect from social networking sites, namely basic information and extended information.

(i) Basic information

26 Basic information is information which you have put on a social networking site which you have made public in accordance with your privacy settings on the relevant social networking site.

27 This could include your name and surname, username or user-ID number, your profile picture or its URL, your e-mail address, the physical location of your device, your gender, your date of birth, and any other information which you have decided to share publically (i.e. the information which you have put on your social networking site profile for anyone to see).

28 We will access your basic information from a social networking site only:

28.1 when you log on to a social networking site from our site or if you select the “keep me logged in” function;

28.2 with your permission; and

28.3 in line with your privacy settings on the relevant social networking site.

(ii) Extended information

29 Extended information is information which you have put on a social networking site over and above the basic information. This could include your additional identifying information and contact details, biographical information, educational history, personal preferences, religion, your “friends” or contacts on the social networking site, your “likes” and “dislikes”, information you have “shared” (e.g. comments on, or shared content on, your or your friend's Facebook “wall”), your recommendations to your friends or other social networking site contacts, your game scores and rankings, and any other information which you have put on, or actions you have done, on a social networking site (e.g. the information on your Facebook “wall”, your game score predictions, or the trophies you've won on our games), and any other information which you permit us, from time to time, to passively collect from a social networking site.

30 We will collect from the relevant social networking site your extended information only if and to the extent that you give us permission to do so.

31 You can decide the layers of extended information which you want to share with us and manage it either through our site or the relevant social networking site (e.g. you might decide, depending on your personal preferences, to allow us to post on your wall when you win a game or to send a notification to your Facebook friends on your behalf.

32 We may offer you the ability to import your address book contacts or to manually enter third parties' contact details in order to populate your invite list on our site (“your contacts”). You may authorise us to send your communications to your contacts on your behalf (e.g. to send your contact an e-mail or notification from you or on your behalf inviting him/her to join your online game sports pool).

33 Each application on our site will have its own default privacy setting. You can manage your settings at the time of giving us your permission or at any time thereafter by clicking on “My profile” on our site or on the relevant social networking site, or in any other manner which we make available on our site from time to time.

34 Your permission will expire if you do not access our site for a period of 60 continuous days. If it expires, you will need to refresh it when you next log in to our site.

35 We only receive information from social networking sites – we do not give them access to any of your personal information.

Passive collection of personal information from our affiliates and third party service providers

36 We collect some personal information passively from our affiliates and third party service providers, purely to supplement information which you have already agreed to give us, to supplement your user profile on our site and to help you and your friends connect.

Why we collect your personal information and how we use it

37 We use the information we collect to provide, maintain, and improve our services, to develop new ones, and to protect us, our services and our users. We constantly strive to improve our users' experience, and so we also use the information we collect in order to offer you information and content which is more appropriately tailored for you.

38 We may collect and use your personal information to:

38.1 establish and verify your identity;

38.2 to create your user account and ensure that it doesn't duplicate an existing user account on our site (if you have an existing user account we will merge the two accounts on our computer systems) and allow use of our site, products and services;

38.3 maintain and update our customer, or potential customer, databases;

38.4 greet you when you access our site;

38.7 request feedback on our site, products and servers, address any issues and liaise with users in that regard;

38.14 combine your personal information from a social networking site with the information on our site to streamline and complete our records and to make it easier for you to share things with people you know;

38.15 improve your user experience and the overall quality of our services;

38.16 customise our site to your preferences and tailor information and/or content for you to ensure that it is presented in the most effective manner for you and for your device;

38.18 inform you about our products and services which we think may interest you (as long as you have consented to this);

38.19 inform you about competitions, promotions and special offers from us (as long as you have consented to this);

38.27 comply with the law or with any legal process; and

38.28 other activities not specifically mentioned which are lawful, reasonable, relevant to our business activities, and the minimum necessary and adequate in order for us to provide the site, and our products and services.

39 We will get your permission before collecting or using your personal information for any other purpose.

Compulsory/optional information and consequences of not sharing it with us

40 Only the following information is compulsory: Your e-mail address and username. In order to access any of the value added services you will need to identify yourself as a AzamTV subscriber with a SmartCard number of a living person (not a bot).

Retention of your personal information

42 We retain all personal information which we collect from you (except for the information referred to in paragraph 43 below) unless there is a valid technical, legal or business reason for us to delete, destroy or de identify it ("retained information").

43 We will not retain the following information if you ask us not to -

43.1 your contacts as contemplated in paragraph 32 above, unless that contact is a registered user on our site who has given us permission to store their information;

43.2 communications which we have sent on your behalf as contemplated in paragraph 32 above;

48 We may disclose your personal information to:

48.1 our affiliates;

61.7 We create a secure back-up for operational and safety purposes.

62 We are not responsible for the privacy practices of a third party site to which there may be a link on our site or to which you may log in from our site (e.g. integrated social networking services).

63 We advise you to read the privacy policy of each site which you visit and to determine your privacy settings in accordance with your personal preferences.
